

Involvement and Advancement with the SVA

Students enjoy some food at the Resource Center after a long day at the career fair. SVA members Ben Bridges and Chris Turner (far right) run the show.

The SVRC is on the move! The center continues to be bustling as new and returning student veterans visit to work towards their degrees. In addition to our regular visitors, our traditional students have started to join our veterans at the Center to take advantage of all the great resources we have to offer. Veteran participation and campus awareness is moving up!

Within the SVRC, the Student Veterans Association (SVA) has begun a dramatic increase in activity towards supporting S&T's student veterans. With a common goal in mind of sending veterans to the Student Veterans of America's 2020 National Conference, the SVRC and SVA are working hand-in-hand to raise funds for the trip. Fundraising has kicked off with a BBQ providing food and drinks for students after the career fair. They are also working with other organizations and academic departments to seek sponsorships and build relationships. Upcoming efforts include seeking crowdfunding, working with external organizations like the Association of the United States Army (AUSA), and Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW), as well as seeking corporate sponsorships and support.

Stay tuned for the next fundraising event!

VA Work-Study Program at Missouri S&T

The SVRC has an exciting opportunity coming up for veterans and military dependents that are seeking employment during school, and employment that is funded by the VA - so it's tax-free. The groundwork has been set to establish a VA work-study program at Missouri S&T! Veterans that have not exhausted their education benefits and are attending school at least 3/4 full-time are eligible to apply. Work study participants will be able to schedule flexible hours tailored around their class schedules, at a pace that works for them. Work study wages are tax-free and you are able to work consistently throughout the semester, so you can still pursue other avenues of financial aid if needed. Duties will include assisting veterans in academic, financial, physical, and social needs. Work study participants may also be called upon to support our VA Certifying Official during busy times of the year.

Stay tuned as we'll have more information on the hiring process soon!

The SVRC has laptops! Check one out at the Consul desk today.

Featured Programs

Listen to various speakers throughout the semester from 11:00am - 1:00pm. We invite our student veterans to the SVRC to eat, learn about campus resources, discover opportunities, and discuss ways to make the campus more veteran friendly.

Grand Re-Opening

November 11th is the grand re-opening of the SVRC at our new location in Haris Hall. We're inviting our student veterans to the SVRC to celebrate our new campus location and the conveniences it will have.

Heroes' Field

One of our flagship events. We are again holding it this year at the Havener lawn, November 11, 12, 13, 14, & 15, from 10 am - 2 pm daily. With this, we are inviting our campus community to come out and place a free flag with a name-tag attached in appreciation of a veteran or service member in their life - past, present, or future.

SVRC Coaches

Our student workers, who are comprised of supportive individuals and veterans, are here to help! They not only support our work in the SVRC, but they also help our students on topics such as academic skills, time management, goal setting, and more. They can also offer direction with campus resources, Veterans Affairs, and amenities. For more information or to schedule an appointment, stop by or email.
